Senate Is Unanimous

Yesterday the Alabama State Senate unanimously resolved to request federal funds in order to transplant Negroes from Alabama to areas outside the south where "they are needed or wanted." They also voted unanimously to establish a committee to investigate the NAACP to determine whether it is communist controlled. Under the terms of the resolution Miss Lucy would be subpoenaed as a witness.

UNIVERSITY HEADS EXPEL LUCY

Birmingham, Alabama, March 1, (AP-UP) — Autherine Lucy, Negro coed, today was expelled from the University of Alabama for unproved charges that school authorities conspired in mob action against her.

There was no official announcement but trustees confirmed the decision. One who declined the use of his name said the action was taken at a secret meeting in Birmingham last night within hours after a Federal Court ordered the university to readmit Miss Lucy.

LETTER TO LUCY

The following is the text of the letter sent to Miss Autherine Lucy.

March 1, 1956

Miss Autherine Lucy,
Birmingham,
Alabama.

Dear Miss Lucy:

The Students of McGill University have been watching with interest and concern your struggle at the University of Alabama.

As University Students belonging to a larger community of students across the world, we have been moved by your admirable courage and by your dedication to something in which we believe.

We feel that you have shown great strength and determination in your fight for your rights. Only if people are willing to fight for principles which they know to be true, can these principles ever be realized.

The Students of McGill University offer you every encouragement. Our eyes and the eyes of everyone are watching you closely, and we have every confidence in your ultimate success.

Sincerely,

McGILL STUDENTS' SOCIETY.

"PREJUDICE" TOPIC OF PAPINEAU FINALS

Four finalists will compete for the Talbot-Papineau Cup, emblematic of supremacy in public speaking at McGill, today at 1 pm in the Walter M. Stewart Room of the Union. The four orators were chosen during the preliminaries held earlier in the week.

The topic for the finals is "Prejudice". The finalists are Tim Porteous BCL 1, Ann Peacock B.A. 1, Howard Tannenbaum B.Sc. 3 and John Barton B.D. 2. Each contestant will speak for fifteen minutes.

Although it had been previously announced that there would be only three finalists it was decided by the judges that because of the "exceptionally high calibre" of the speakers four should be named.

Dr. F. Cyril James, Principal and Vice-Chancellor, will act as the judge for the contest.

Last year's winner of the trophy was John Fraser, then Editor-in-Chief of the Daily. Bryce Weir and Claude-Armand Shepard were the other two finalists.

What is education like in the Soviet Union? What fields are stressed most? How are people chosen to participate in the educational program? To answer these and other similar questions which have been in the news lately, the McGill committee of the World University Services of Canada are sponsoring a talk by His Excellency Mr. Dmitri Chuvahin, Ambassador of the USSR to Canada. The talk will take place today in the Physical Sciences Centre Auditorium at 5 pm. A film will also be shown.

The topic of the talk will be "Higher Education in the Soviet Union." There will be some emphasis on the main university in the Soviet Union, Moscow State University. This institution last year celebrated its 200th birthday. The new giant structure, only two years old, contains living quarters, observatories, 148 lecture halls, over a thousand laboratories, a swimming pool, several gymnasias and a botanical garden.

Interesting diversions from our educational system occur in methods of selection of students, types of student aid, placement after graduation and in the extensive amount of research done in undergraduate years. Other little known aspects of the Soviet system are the importance of education by correspondence and the attempts to educate the masses.

WUSC has invited Mr. Chuvahin to give this talk to encourage mutual understanding among students and to present the different policies and methods of existing education. The meeting is open to students and faculty.

Nundi Gewurtz Wins—Condemns T.V. As Fifth Column Menace

Nundi Gewurtz, B.A. II, yesterday won the Women's Union Oratorical Contest, held in RVC.

Speaking on the topic "Resolved that television is a moral menace to society", Miss Gewurtz argued that TV has become a substitute for good books and good discussion. She spoke of TV as a fifth column, an enemy we cannot see. "Personality," she said, "is being manufactured as a mass production commodity. People lack the self-confidence to think as individuals."

Television, "as a medium best watched in darkness, is a moral menace," she said, but even more of a moral menace is that it has undermined individuality.

"While science has created the mechanical robot, TV is producing the human automator. We should be frightened of the trend of mass education and mass entertainment wherein we are left with neither education or entertainment, but just mass."

The other speakers were Neal Mahan, B.A. II, Rene Rothman, B.A. I, and Betty Muir, Phys. Ed. IV.

W.U. Open Meeting Set For Monday

The Women's Union will hold its second open meeting of the session on Monday, March 5, at 4 pm in the Common Room of Royal Victoria College. The Women's Union holds two open meetings during the year, one in October and the other in March.

Up again for discussion will be the one dollar grant per woman student to the McGill Union. The matter has been tabled since last March.

Registration will be held for those girls interested in serving on committees next term, and candidates for Women's Union and M.W.S.A.A. positions will be presented.

'DRAMATIC' GOES ON STAGE TONIGHT

The Players' Club show, "Dramatic" opens at 8:30 this evening in the Walter M. Stewart Room of the McGill Union. It will run tonight and Saturday night.

The guest speaker was Mr. Elmore Philpott, the MP for Vancouver. He was elected to the House of Commons in 1953. Mr. Earl Kruger acted as Speaker of the House.

"Dramatic" is scheduled to run for about two hours and twenty minutes including the intermission. The first part of the show will consist of Yafa Lerner in a dance; Pearl Sheffy, with Peter Engel, in a reading; and Leon Jacobovits in a mime.

The second part of the programme will be the play "No Exit" by Jean-Paul Sartre. The cast includes H. G. Bialik, Dolly Humphreys, Pearl Sheffy and Nicholas Critchley. The director is David Berlin.

ANOTHER FEE RAISE

The proposal that students' fees be raised by $3.50 in order that athletic events be sponsored without charge to members of the Students' Society has a great deal of appeal. However, this appeal is limited to a minority of students who attend athletic events actively, and even to this group the offer is not as lucrative on second consideration as it is on first.

The proposal attempts to do three things. First it proposes to give the Students' Athletic Council more power in administering athletic activities. Second it hopes, by making athletic activities free, to initiate more interest and greater attendance. Third it speciously attempts to give the students something for nothing.

To the first we must answer that we agree that the SAC should wield more power. However we think this power should be gained through negotiations with the University authorities, rather than by a raise of students' fees. To the second our reply is that the effect on student participation is grossly exaggerated. People do not keep away from the activities because of the nominal price of admission, but rather because they lack the interest. As an example, witness the basketball games which, though they are free, are among the most poorly attended events on the campus. Compare this with the football games, where, though there is a charge, 4000, of a possible 5000, student tickets are sold.

To the third argument we can only list the material benefits in this order: Three football games for a total of $1.50; three Athletics Nights at $1.00 each; 6 hockey games at $0.25 each; three Union tea dances at $0.25 each; one pep rally at $0.25 each. We would hazard that the most active individuals on the Campus (800 students) would benefit approximately $3.75 worth (football games, two athletics nights and one of the others). Another 1000 would probably receive under $3.00 worth while the majority would receive, in return, under $2.00. These figures are, of course, open to contention, but we feel that they are representative.

We must admit that for us the scheme sounds like a sound capital investment. However, we disagree with the principle involved — that of making a majority of students pay for benefits that only a minority will realize.

The matter is scheduled to come up before a Students' Society meeting on Monday. We should ask, before your decision, that you consider an analogous situation: Would you approve of a $3.50 fee raise which will provide the Annual to every member of the Students' Society? We ask that you weigh these conflicting arguments carefully and make a decision that will be compatible with individual conscience.

A PLEA FOR PROGRESS

Throughout human history, men have stoutly resisted progress. Every new idea or new invention has been opposed by the conservatives of the era. This is as true today as it has always been.

It was years before people would believe that the world was round, or that the Earth rotated about the sun. There seems to be something in human nature that resists progress and new ideas. Men have balked at the introduction of such things as airplanes, women's rights, television, Prohibition and probably even indoor plumbing. If a thing is new, they will find a reason for disliking it.

We mention this now because of derogatory comments we have recently heard about a comparatively new, exceedingly comfortable, but certainly much maligned institution: the knee sock. It seems that most men prefer women to wear nylon stockings and high heels. Not realizing that they are merely following the human pattern and resisting progress in the shape — or lack of it — of a new idea, they pretend that their preference stems from aesthetic considerations.

For their benefit and guidance, may we point out that when the automobile was invented, there were undoubtedly many conservatives who argued that the horse was prettier.

Answer to Clash

Sir:

L'article que vous avez publié dans le McGill Daily de la semaine dernière au sujet du nationalisme canadienne français, a manqué son but. Il a fait rire les Canadiens Français et rougir les compatriotes anglais.

Quel degré de maturité intellectuelle pensez-vous donc avoir atteint, pour tenter ainsi l'esquisse du tableau historique de tout un peuple, en quelques traits de plume? Avouez que le sujet dépasse largement votre intelligence et que son importance est loin de faire balance avec vos connaissances très superficielles de l'histoire du Canada.

Les petits faits sales que vous dénudés de leur contexte historique afin de rendre écoeurants, et que vous donnez comme racine d'un supposé complexe d'infériorité chez les Canadiens Français, extériorisent bien chez vous une conscience malhonnête, dépravée et sans responsabilité. Comment vos compatriotes de langue anglaise eurent-ils pu ne pas rougir?

Si complexe il y a, le complexe né de l'histoire du Canada ne peut être qu'un complexe de supériorité et vous le savez, M. Clash, mais vous vouliez cracher sur vos confrères canadiens français et au détriment même de la vérité historique, vous l'avez fait.

Quant au reste de votre exposé, il est trop enfantin et superficiel pour être offensif. Il est un peu drôle et beaucoup ridicule. Avez-vous vraiment l'esprit assez étroit pour penser que Miami et Barbados devraient être réservés aux Canadiens de langue anglaise? Etes-vous idiot au point même de croire que certains quartiers résidentiels de Montréal ne devraient pas abriter des familles canadiennes de langue française? Le Canada est aux Canadiens et ne vous en déplaise, M. Clash, même aux Canadiens Français.

Athletic Fee Increase

Sir:

In yesterday's Daily there was a brief front page article concerning the Athletic Fee Increase. The increase and the benefits to be derived from it is one of the most constructive proposals put before the Students' Society in the past few years. And it is indeed unfortunate that due to other pressing issues this proposal could not receive sufficient advance publicity.

Realizing the importance of $3.50 to a great many students, I still claim that the benefits to the McGill Athletic Picture from this proposed plan are tantamount enough to (if at all possible) neglect the monetary side.

Being well acquainted with the Athletic situation, I can confidently say that all should be satisfied with this proposal. McGill's Athletic deficit can be gradually decreased and possibly a profit shown. Attendance at all Athletic events will definitely increase. Hence with better equipped teams because of financial aid, and better spirited teams because of larger attendance, McGill's Athletic situation will definitely take a turn for the better.

Most U.S. schools are successfully practising this system under the I.D. card arrangement.

But the immediate problem is not the $3.50 assessment but the necessity for a quorum on Monday.

So how about it, Athletic supporters, show up!

Phil DeZwirek, B.A. 2.

Editorial Policy

Sir:

Your editorial entitled "Your Decision" in yesterday's "Daily" was interesting and well-written, but I cannot say that it was apt. You state that "our duty is to get out and vote" in the referendum, but you follow this with a not too subtle indication of how we should vote.

The function of a university paper is, among other things, to present the facts as they are: Following the marshalling of the facts, it is up to each and every one of us to vote as he feels correct, without being influenced by a supposedly neutral editor of the only daily on campus.

Not all university students may have the ability to think through such an issue on their own, but the presumption is that they either have it or are acquiring it. Therefore, a presentation of your own views immediately before a referendum is not in the general interest.

Eric de Becker, B.A. 4.

No Fight

Sir:

I must protest that a letter bearing my signature which appeared in the McGill Daily of February 28 was not written by me. It would seem to me that this letter which challenged your heavyweight champion, Norm Zavalkoff to a contest of any sort. His reputation as a fighter is well known in Toronto as he has participated and acquitted himself very well in some of this city's more bloody battles.

Please convey my sincere apologies to Mr. Zavalkoff.

Yours truly,

George Jennings,
Heavyweight Champion,
Varsity University,
Toronto, Ontario.

Basement Department

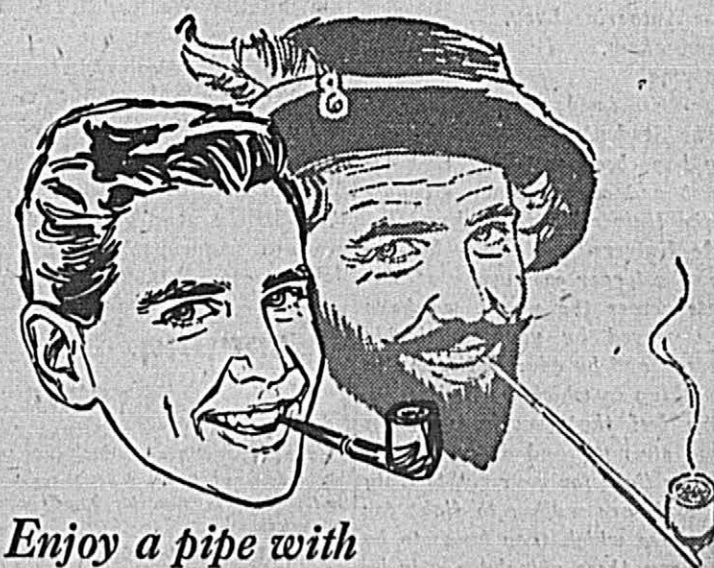

Sir:

In noting the statistics concerning the voting percentages of the various faculties which appeared in yesterday's Daily, it becomes obvious that the transfer of the polling booth from the Arts Building lobby to the basement has had a definite detrimental effect. Only 36.4 per cent of the Arts and Science faculty cast their votes in the referendum. This is the lowest percentage recorded by any faculty. Compare this to the fact that the campus as a whole recorded a 47.5 per cent vote, and the Engineering faculty, which is supposed to be abstemious in this type of intellectual question, recorded 50.7 per cent.

There is no question that the presence of a ballot box in view of everyone is a psychological asset in getting people to vote. Students passing a ballot box in full view are reminded of the fact that this is voting day. Couple to this the fact that university students are inherently lazy and the basement ballot box means a little extra effort and you have what seems to me a concrete argument for reinstating the box in the lobby.

I am not familiar, sir, with the reasons that have caused the electoral officers of the Students' Society to remove the ballot box. Whatever they be, I would ask them to reconsider.

An indignant Artsman.

PRESIDENT, STUDENTS' SOCIETY

Morrie Shohet

a) SEC Isolation: The largest problem with the SEC this year was its apparent lack of touch with student thought. This dilemma is not new in fact; five years ago the Council inaugurated a system by which they hoped to eliminate it. The system has failed, not because of inherent fallacies, but rather because of the fact that the following Presidents failed to administer it properly. I propose that this process of administration be revitalized, eliminating assumptions that have proven false in practice, and in effect forming a Council, which keeps abreast of student opinion and whose leadership is worthy of the students' trust.

b) Open Meetings: All meetings of the SEC, must be made open to the students. In this way the Council will have a constant reminder of its responsibility to them. Open meetings will also allow students to take active interest in the affairs of their government and activities.

c) Executive Application Program: In order that student activities be truly available to all members of the Student's Society, executive posts on the campus should be filled only after applications have been called for from any interested member. In this way all students would be eligible for offices and not only the nominees of the retiring committee.

d) New Union: The news that McGill University will not be building a new Union in the immediate future has come as a great disappointment to everyone. $25,000 of Students' Society funds were donated towards a new Union in January 1954 and this move aroused considerable public sympathy. Since then, the issue has been dormant. There must exist a continually functioning New Union Committee. Closer contact must be maintained with the University authorities in order that they too are kept aware of the lack of facilities which hampers Students' Society.

When elected representatives of the student body of McGill cease to be representative of the students electing them — it is time for a change to be made.

For too many years the S.E.C. has not been representing the student body in the handling of important issues — for example — the $5,000 give-away to the M.T.C.

Our student government encompasses too narrow a group of McGill students in every sphere of its activity. Not enough people are made to feel part of McGill life by being given an opportunity to participate in S.E.C. sponsored events.

Out of participation comes a sense of belonging — and when people feel that they belong to something they take pride in it, and try to improve it; if we all pull together to improve McGill the better off we and our University will be. If Canada's University students of to-day are the country's leaders of to-morrow, the same students must be given an opportunity to develop qualities of leadership.

All activity on campus must be opened up to give EVERY student an OPPORTUNITY to participate at a responsible level.

My aim is to achieve the needed de-centralization of executive positions, and if elected I will do my best to see such changes made.

I think the A.S.U.S. should have:

1. A promotions chairman to stimulate our contributions to activities.

2. More attention afforded A.S.U.S. clubs.

3. A campus-wide social event rivalling those of other faculties.

4. More adequate space in the new Union and improvements to existing facilities.

This I would do.

Don Harterre

Don entered McGill in 1953 on scholarship and through his capacity for hard work and administrative ability has been on the: Athletics' Nights executive, Mountain Night executive, Blood Drive, Intermediate Football team, and was elected a Scarlet Key. We find Don's ability, personality, and experience distinguish him as a candidate worthy of the position.

MUCH ADO OPENS THURSDAY

Professor Stephen Porter's final production at McGill University opens Thursday night at Moyse Hall. Shakespeare's Much Ado About Nothing has been chosen for the occasion. Professor Porter is leaving academic theatre this spring to return to the United States to focus his attention on experimental and off-Broadway theatre.

In this presentation of "Much Ado" the same team that has co-operated for the past several seasons to achieve the successes for which the English Department has become known will once again be in charge of the technical aspects of production. Althea and Creighton Douglas have designed the costumes and planned the lighting and Gordon Dorey has executed the settings from designs by Professor Porter, who has directed and produced the play.

The M.W.S.-A.A. provides for an extensive intramural and extramural sports program. However, too limited a number of women students take full advantage of this. It is my intention to promote greater interest, enthusiasm and participation in interfaculty sports with emphasis on enjoyment and recreation rather than on ability. This can be achieved if:-

- 1) Representatives of the Intramural Sports Committee are given a fuller understanding of their importance and duties.
- 2) An effective follow through of sports interests indicated on registration cards is made by personal and telephone contact.
- 3) M.W.S.A.A. News letters are issued to all women students.

If elected, I will strive to the best of my ability to carry out the aims and high standard of work of the M.W.S.A.A.

CAGERS MEET BLUES IN FINAL GAME

The McGill basketball Redmen write finis to the season this Saturday evening when they entertain the Toronto Varsity Blues at the Currie Gym. In their previous meeting at Toronto the Blues romped to an easy 91-60 win.

Joe Anderson's Redmen are presently tied for fourth place in the league standings with the Mc-Master Marauders. Each has a record of three wins and six defeats in league play.

Anderson plans to stay with the same starting team he has used all year. Big Leon DuPlessis will start at centre despite a sprained ankle which has kept him from practicing this week.

BASKETBELLES OUSTED

by Lorraine Brender

The McGill Junior Coeds lost their chance to try for the Inter-City Basketball Championship by virtue of their defeat by Sir George on Wednesday night. Had our cagers won this game they would have forced a play-off for the title, but now the winners of the Georgians and Marianapolis tilt will be the champion. In the first half of the game, both teams put on a poor, unskillful exhibition, yet amid the confusion the Georgettes crept ahead 23-9, an insurmountable lead which McGill were able to overcome. With their typical second half recovery the Red and White came very close to evening the count, the final score being 41-30.

Misses Ann McNally and Nancy Zinck shone on the affence, garnering 11 and 10 points respectively. Fiery, little Pat Nugent turned in an excellent, driving performance and contributed 8 points. Miss Fran Williams of Sir George netted over half of her team's total score, playing a terrific game.

MWSAA PRESIDENT Sheila Morris

I propose a four point programme:-

- 1) Initiate an intramural golf tournament.
- 2) Increase women's participation in Athletics night.
- 3) Improve intramural sports programme to increase participation.

4) Have publicity manager of M.W.S.A.A. and Women's Sports Editor of the Daily as separate positions but working in unison.

Sheila Morris

Sheila Morris attended Walkerville Collegiate in Windsor Ontario. While there she participated in all school activities, being president of the Girl's Athletic Association in her final year. On graduating, she won the Paul Martin Medal for General Proficiency.

Sheila entered second year Arts at McGill and since then has earned a place for herself on the campus. She has played on five intercollegiate teams in her two years, being the only girl to make advantage of the new ruling of being able to play three intercollegiate sports a year.

Her executive ability has proven itself in the following accomplishments: — member of the executive of Freshman Reception, Co-producer of the Water Show, Social Convenor of R.V.C. and Chairman of the recent Carnival Revue. Sheila was also elected a member of the Red Wing Society this year.

We the undersigned feel that Sheila has all the qualities necessary for a capable president.

It is difficult to state any definite plans when one does not know the full scope and duties of the position involved, however, I would like to see a McGill coed figure skating group comparable to that of Bishop's University. Since we are to have an ice stadium of our own, skating will play a more prominent role in winter sports.

I would also like to see an award set up for those people whose continuous participation and enthusiasm contribute much to Intramural competition.

Above all, I will do my best to uphold the high standards set by Patty Mowat.

Ann Pearson

We, the undersigned are sincere in saying that Ann Pearson would be an enthusiastic and competent President of the M.W.S.A.A.

Ann has always shown great interest in many, varied activities such as the Choral Society, Psychology Club, and Women's Union Fashion Show.

She has held such executive positions as Secretary of the Intramural Sports Council, Squash Manager on the M.W.S.A.A., Scholarship Chairman for W.U.S., Convocation Ball Ticket Convenor, Group Captain for Combined Charities, and Newman Ball Decorations Chairman.

Having also participated in Intramural and Intercity competition we feel that she has the experience and ability to do the job well.

Redmen To Meet Laval

by Irwin Sankoff

Gordie Currie, a four year veteran of the McGill Redmen, has probably played his last Intercollegiate game for the Red and White. Gordie, a solid performer for the Redmen up front, suffered a badly banged up knee in the Varsity — McGill game last week.

As a result the Redmen are down to their last seven forwards for their remaining games. The Redmen tackle the Red and Gold from Laval at 2:15 pm this Saturday at the Forum in their last home game of the season, and for what could well be the last regular season game the Redmen play at the Atwater Ice Emporium (Haven't you heard, the rink will be ready next season — that's 1956-57).

As a replacement for Currie, Rocky Robillard, will use Ross Hughes at left wing on the Pete Constable-Jackie McMullan line the Baltzan-Konyk-McCann line will remain intact while Warren Allmand will see action in a utility role. Dinty O'Shaughnessy will once again be between the pipes for the Redmen. Len Sigurdson, Doug Maule, Brian McMullan and Jim Grant will line up for Rocky's warriors on the blueline.

This will be the last home appearance for three regular members of the Redmen, for Gordie Currie, Pete Constable and Brian McCann are all due to graduate this year. Currie an Engineering student has toiled at the left wing post for four years for coach Robillard. He came to the Redmen after playing some hockey for Trinity College in Ontario. To date this year Currie has blinked the red light twice and assisted on six other Redmen goals.

During his stay with the Redmen, Currie scored a total of 18 goals and assisted on 22 others. Gordie tried to practice for the squad this week, but his bad leg wouldn't hold him and the medics wrote finis to his career with the tribe when they ordered him to the sidelines for the balance of the season.

Pete Constable has played for the Redmen for three seasons now and led the team in scoring in the first two. To date this year Pete has scored four goals and helped out on a dozen others. The smooth skating centre has scored 18 goals and picked up 34 assists in his three year stint with the Redmen. Pete played some junior hockey in the old JAHHA before entering Physical Education.

Pete is also a fastball player of note, performing for Ace Holden's out for the junior Royals in the JAHHA. Two years ago he was tied with Henri Richard as leading scorer, but a broken leg put him out of action.

BULLETIN

The Redmen moved closer to second place last night with a 6-4 win over Laval. The McGill scorers were Konyk who got two markers; and McCann, Hughes, Constable, and McMullan who got one apiece.

WOMEN'S UNION PRESIDENT

Janet Buzzell

If elected, I shall try to continue the excellent work of Joan Caplan and uphold the interests of women students. My platform includes:

1) Expanding the city-sister program over the four year period.

2) Continuing year dinners.

3) Increasing hospital and social work volunteer services which are necessary and popular.

4) Investigating the possibility of establishing a Women's Union bursary with funds raised from the Fashion Show and other money making projects.

I feel that these activities enable more women to take a greater part in campus activities and to meet other people.

Janet Buzzell

Janet Buzzell has gained a thorough knowledge of the executive and practical aspects of Women's Union work as a member at large during 1954-55. In this capacity, she was in charge of the Book Exchange. Her other Women's Union Activities include:

3) Additional publicity by having a Women's Union represent-

4) To see the Placement Service assist in obtaining summer employment, intimating Travelogues, and continuing Career Guidance.

5) To carry on and maintain the high standard of work being done in the interest of McGill women.
